

200 Word Essay on Pakistan

August 14 is the most important day in the history of Pakistan. On this auspicious day, our country became independent. The British left with bags and luggage.

We celebrate this day with great joy every year. Amazing preparation at our school this year. Each of us was excited to take part in the Independence Day celebrations. The senior teachers of the school organized a program which was announced by the headmaster on August 13.

Gather on the school grounds on the morning of August 14. The school was beautifully decorated with flags and banners.

Teachers also join us in a few minutes. We were divided into four parties under the charge of four teachers. We walked around the school singing national anthems and chanting "Long live Pakistan" and "Long live Quaid-e-Azam".

At school, we stood around the flag. At exactly 8 o'clock, the national anthem was relayed from Radio Pakistan. We all stood in awe and then the President's address.

After that, we started our program. Scouts played beautiful tunes, sang national anthems, and gave speeches. Each of us received a packet of sweets in which the senior students of the school were told to return home to school in a happy mood after enjoying the bright light.

This is how we celebrated Independence Day in our school. This day always reminds us of the eternal sacrifices of the freedom fighters. We should pray for the patriots who shed their blood for Pakistan.

300 words on Independence Day celebration in school essay

August 14 is the most important day in the history of Pakistan. On this auspicious day, our country became independent. The British left with bags and luggage.

We celebrate this day with great joy every year. Amazing preparation at our school this year. Each of us was excited to take part in the Independence Day celebrations. The senior teachers of the school organized a program which was announced by the headmaster on August 13.

Gather on the school grounds on the morning of August 14. The school was beautifully decorated with flags and banners.

Teachers also join us in a few minutes. We were divided into four parties under the charge of four teachers. We walked around the school singing national anthems and chanting "Long live Pakistan" and "Long live Quaid-e-Azam".

At school, we stood around the flag. We were told to stand up for the class. Like my soldiers, I look ready to sacrifice my life behind the teachers for the sake of my country. We all stood in awe and then the President's address.

After that, we started our program. Scouts played beautiful tunes, sang national anthems, and gave speeches. All the speakers highlighted the importance of the day and the duties towards the country, at the end the headmaster asked to gather around the field to participate in school sports.

Each of us received a packet of sweets in which the senior students of the school were told to return home to school in a happy mood after enjoying the bright light.

This is how we celebrated Independence Day in our school. This day always reminds us of the eternal sacrifices of the freedom fighters. We should pray for the patriots who shed their blood for Pakistan.

We have an article on each topic, check out the full list here. Free video lectures on math, physics and English are here if you are studying for matriculation, and we have also covered you for I.COM Business Mathematics.