

Long Speech for Kids 500 Words In English india independence day

Good morning. Welcome to the Independence Day celebrations at our school.

On this day of national celebration, we should all be proud to be part of India. India is a free nation that gives us the freedom to exercise all our rights, including the right to education and the right to speech.

We have been under British rule for almost 200 years. They treated us like slaves, tortured us, and destroyed our money and resources. But after all the struggle, with the help of our freedom fighters, Indians fought for their rights and freedom.

About 73 73 years ago, on August 15, 1947, India finally gained independence from the British Raj. For the first time, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru hoisted the Indian flag on the Red Fort. Since then, India has been celebrating Independence Day across the country.

India was once full of resources. We were full of minerals, and India was known as the leading market for spices in the world. These reasons led the British government to occupy India and use all its resources for its purposes, just as manipulating Indians, in the beginning, was an easy task.

With the implementation of various policies, the country came under the rule of the British people. They started torturing us and forced us to become their slaves. With the help of the policy of partition and rule, they created conflicts among the Indians.

A few prominent liberal leaders like Mahatma Gandhi, Bhagat Singh, Subhash Chandra Bose, and Jawaharlal Nehru emerged as leaders to engage and inspire everyone so that they could fight for their rights at all costs. Since then, every Indian has taken an active part in the liberation movements for the cause of a free nation.

Freedom has given us many benefits, including all the rights to freedom, speech, education, and much more. Without our libertarians, it would have been impossible to achieve independence against British rule. For us, it was a beautiful gift of a free India from our martyrs. Therefore, it is now our responsibility to cherish freedom in matters of cleanliness such as cleanliness, keeping our environment clean, helping people in need, and upholding all the rules and regulations of our Constitution.

Schools, colleges, educational institutions, public, and private institutions organized various cultural programs to make the day memorable. Our main goal for this day is to remember the important contribution of our freedom fighters who sacrificed everything for us, to make our country a free nation.

Our country's armed forces organize parades every year to show India's superpower to the world. We also pay tribute to our army, which is still protecting us from enemies across India's borders.

Finally, I would like to say that the young generation is the future of the country. With the talents of the youth and the efforts towards the country, India can be more successful in the future. We need to understand the importance of patriotism and the importance of Independence Day in our country. With unity, we can strengthen our nation for a better future.

Thanks
