

Pakistan Defense Day Speech in English #02

Respected Principal, teachers, and dear classmates, Good Morning!

The topic of my speech is Pakistan Defence day. Before starting, Let me tell you why there is a word “Defence” in it. In September, our neighbor and arch-rival India attacked Lahore, Sialkot, and the desert area of Sindh. They had advanced weapons, tanks, and other missiles. We did not have any advanced weapons like India. But still, our soldiers successfully “Defended” our country. They gave their blood so that Pakistanis at that time and us, their generation, could live peacefully. If they had not defended Pakistan, our conditions would be just like Srinagar.

Dear friends, you all know on the dawn of the attack, the Indian Army Chief said they would eat Breakfast in Lahore. His wish could not be fulfilled at that time. But decades later, his wish was fulfilled. As we all know Lahoris love to drink Chai in the breakfast. Decades later Indian pilot Abhinandan tried to attack Pakistani territory. His plane was shot in the air by a Pakistani pilot. Later he was rescued from the mob. Then Abhinandan bravely fulfilled the wish of his former Indian army chief by drinking tea. And I would also like to congratulate the Mess.

Abhinandan liked the tea and said on camera, “The Tea is fantastic.” Jokes aside, it is our army’s immaculate training that we fight hard till the last minute.

We Enjoy Freedom on the Cost of our Soldiers’ lives.

Dear Friends, we enjoy freedom today because our troops laid their lives. They protected our motherland with their blood. It is rightly said that a soldier fights not because he hates what is in front of him. But because he loves what is behind his back and that is his country, people, and memories. Due to his valor in the 1965 war, Major Raja Aziz Bhatti was awarded the highest military award “Nishan-e-Haider.”

Defence day is also the perfect occasion to renew our pledge with Pakistan that we will work day and night to make our country a better place. And also that we will not be intimidated or ordered by any foreign state. And also that we will defend our country from anything, be that a military assault or the assault on our ideology. May Allah grant us the ability and determination to fulfill these pledges. I will end my speech on slogan: Pakistan Zindabad!
